

Caesarstone® Direct Sales into Western Australia and South Australia

In line with the continued growth of the brand in Australia, Caesarstone® will be commencing direct sales and distribution in Western Australia and South Australia from January 23rd 2012.

This change to direct distribution is in line with increasing demand for the brand in both states and the company’s desire to have direct contact via its own sales team, with its customer base. This is becoming increasingly important with the addition of other design collections from the Caesarstone® brand and being able to work directly with designers and other customers on an ever widening range of product applications.

To receive priority updates, we invite designers to send their contact details to Caesarstone® at sales@caesarstone.com.au to receive the information updates on the introduction and distribution of Caesarstone® and the sales contacts within both states.

For any immediate project requirements or any other assistance, please contact us directly at sales@caesarstone.com.au
