Introducing Caesarstone ICON™

Advanced Mineral Surfaces

Since 1987, Caesarstone® has continuously led the way in surface innovation, introducing more breakthrough designs in the last three decades than any other brand in our category.

Our commitment to redefining excellence in design and sustainability has never been stronger.

Caesarstone ICON™ advanced mineral surfaces are crafted from Caesarstone's crystalline silica-free* blend of recycled and other innovative materials.

Representing a groundbreaking innovation in surface technology and addressing the need of the hour by setting a new standard for sustainability, design, and performance.

Caesarstone ICON™ crystalline silica-free* surfaces deliver superior resistance, durability, and aesthetic appeal while offering unparalleled versatility for a wide range of applications. From kitchen benchtops and splashbacks, to bathroom, laundry and furniture surfaces, to commercial interiors, the Caesarstone ICON™ collection provides endless surface design versatility for any space.

Experience the future of surfaces
- where design meets sustainability.

Caesarstone ICON™ advanced mineral surfaces are crafted from Caesarstone's crystalline silica-free* blend of recycled and other innovative materials. Some variation in colour may occur. The colours in this brochure are printed to the highest standard, however, should only be used as an indication, not an exact match of the actual product colour. We always recommend making final selection where possible by viewing a large format sample at Caesarstone showrooms.
